OUR MISSION

Wotton House International School is based in the heart of Gloucester and is part of the International Village Education group. Our educational ethos is encapsulated in the African proverb: “it takes a village to raise a child”. This incorporates three, related, ideas:

1. That education is not just the responsibility of the teacher but also of the wider community; children today grow up in an unregulated global village and need guidance more than ever to navigate safely.
2. That being ‘educated’ has many facets and angles, and that each child has many different gifts, not all of which are catered for by traditional in-a-box classroom learning.
3. That education must explicitly provide some networks of support, connections and contacts; it is not enough to send a child into the world with nothing but certificates under their arm. WHIS will work actively to help children develop the confidence, skills and knowledge necessary to thrive in the modern world.

ACHIEVING OUR VISION

To ensure that this vision is met, we integrate three key elements into the school:

- A robust, inquiry-based, knowledge curriculum
- Integrated technology for learning
- Outdoor education as an integral part of each child’s school experience.

Please visit our website <https://www.wottonhouseschool.co.uk/> to access a range of information, including the following:
